

SGQG Guild Meeting: September 13, 2022

Call to order: 10:05 a.m.

Attendance and guests: 41 members

Approval of August minutes motioned and seconded. Also, January and February approved

Board Reports:

President:

Remember when you're asked to set up for the meeting this includes break down as well.

Also, please return our opportunity quilt stubs to me. There will be free membership next year for the person who sells the most tickets.

Rhonda and I took the opportunity to Loomis guild [REDACTED]. Sue Green and Cherida Gruenfeldt will take the quilt to Creekside Church in Roseville

Mail: Ironstone Quilt Show. Amador County Fair rewards given. Interfaith Food Bank request for food basket. To date, we have collected $55.00. Also, remember egg cartons are no longer needed.

SPEAKER: No speaker

Vice President:

September class cancelled due to Kathryn Pellman breaking her leg. You can receive a refund or roll it over for another class.

Analie Belden also cancelled her class.

Mary Foster had suggested a quilt to use scraps for the community quilts. Details will be in the next newsletter.

November workshop will be our Christmas stockings.

I will also research a members retreat in Lake Tahoe.

Name tag. Let me know if you want one.

UFO class will be held today after the guild meeting.

Treasurer:

[REDACTED]

Secretary: Nothing

Old Business:

Sue Green donated a free cabinet for the storage area, which needs to be organized.

New Business:

Sue Green and Pat Bjerke were approached by Mike at the Amador County fair wanting quilts to sell online as a fundraiser for the Amador Hospital. If interested, let us know.

2023 Quilt show: Sandy Wager has volunteered to be next year's quilt show general chair. We need three more chairs. A list of responsibilities will be posted on our website.

It has been suggested that the members have a booth at the 2023 quilt show. Members to manage booth. Sue Green suggested a sign-up sheet by March of 2023 to ensure enough tables are available.

Sandy Askin thanked everyone for the dog bed donations. Also, members quilts are hanging in the Jackson Library until the end of September.

Kathy Beach needs help getting bins of fabric out of storage the day before the community quilt workshops.

Round Robin: Eleven members showed their round robin tops. Pat reminded anyone with a finished block will receive a raffle ticket.

Show and tell

Adjourn: 12:20 p.m.